The Loacker Family.

Pioneers, Thinking outside the box. Family. 40 years' experience under our belt help us manage 3 wine estates in 2 regions: South Tyrol and Tuscany. Doing things our way since 1979 - creating organic and biodynamic wines.

The grape does not fall too far from the vine.

Rainer built the wine estate in 1979. Since 1998, son Hayo has determined the fortunes of the wineries. Today, all 3 sons, Hayo, Franz Josef and Hannes, play a part in the LOACKER Wine Estates. They share their father's pioneering spirit, commitment, and rebel heart.

Biodynamics & Homeopathy

By using homeopathic means Rainer and his son Hayo have given their vines the chance to become more resistance against environmental influences. Together with biodynamic viticulture they have developed a method to cultivate healthy grapes as naturally as possible, while respecting nature, to produce high quality wines.

biodynamic & homeopathic preparations

Horn manure:

encourages root growth, supports the uptake of nutrient and water

Horn silicia:

supports and regulates the metabolism of the vine, ensures even ripening quality

Belladonna:

to increase resistance to infections during hot, humid weather conditions

Dulcamara:

to increase resistance to infections in prolonged wet, foggy and misty weather conditions

Calcarea carbonica:

before flowering, to further the flowering process

These are examples among many preparations Loacker uses.

WELL-GROUNDED. DYNAMIC. SEVEN LITTLE GEMS.

Corte Pavone's Terroir offers a unique heterogeneity and thus the perfect conditions for single vineyard wines. Based on the characteristics of the terroir (soil type, exposure, microclimate and vine material) 7 unique wine expressions were defined.

For each Vintage infrared sensors measure the growth strength of the vines, identifying micro parceling of the land and allowing a dynamic grape selection; the foundation of why our Brunello Crus are dynamic. Terroir meets vintage - the 7 Dynamic Brunello Crus of Corte Pavone.
